NSBE's Vision

We envision a world in which engineering is a mainstream word in homes and communities of color and all Black students can envision themselves as engineers. In this world, Blacks exceed parity in entering engineering fields, earning degrees and succeeding professionally.

NSBE's Mission and Objectives

The mission of the National Society of Black Engineers is "to increase the number of culturally responsible Black Engineers who excel academically, succeed professionally and positively impact the community." The National Society of Black Engineers strives to accomplish the following objectives for our organization:

- ♥ Stimulate and develop student interest in the various engineering and engineering-related disciplines
- ♥ Increase the number of underrepresented minority students completing engineering and other STEM programs at both the undergraduate and graduate levels
- ♥ Encourage members to seek advanced degrees in engineering or related fields and to obtain professional engineering certifications
- ♥ Promote public awareness of engineering and the opportunities for Blacks and other minorities in that profession
- ♥ Function as a representative body on issues and developments that affect the careers of Black Engineers

About SEEK

The National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) created the Summer Engineering Experience for Kids (SEEK) to inspire Black students with the opportunities and wonders of the STEM fields. SEEK is a free, three-week summer program that offers a fun and engaging educational experience for students in grades 3–5. SEEK aims to provide high-quality learning opportunities to students from groups underrepresented in STEM — students who otherwise may not have robust access to STEM education. With a commitment to establishing equity in the engineering pipeline, SEEK addresses inequality in STEM curricula. The lack of diversity in engineering and technology has proven to lead to a design bias that negatively impacts product users with non-majority identities. To train the next generation of engineers and technologists, SEEK incorporates social justice in engineering to teach SEEK participants how to identify and mitigate bias in the engineering design process (EDP).
